

Cheryl Gray, a graduate from North Central University and the Assemblies of God Theological Seminary, served as a missionary in Paraguay, South America, before marrying her husband, Bill. They are U.S. missionaries to Mobile's inner city. Cheryl believes women who realize how roses compare to their lives will be encouraged to further develop the gifts and talents God has placed within them.

"The beauty of the rose compared to our life experience shows the great plan God has for all of us. His grace is sufficient."

—Carol Cymbala
Director, The Brooklyn Choir
